SUPERGUIDE

MIXING RATIO

This is our recommendation for the dilution of the product. The highest dilution recommended is adequate for normal contamination - It is also the most economical. The lowest dilution is for heavy contamination, but is always safe to use.

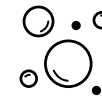

SOAKING TIME

The time a product needs to break down the contamination, before you can remove it.

PH

The pH-value of a product. See page 6 for a detailed explanation.

FOAM

If the product is low, medium or high foam.

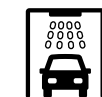

CUTTING POWER

The cutting power of the polishing product. Low cutting power is primarily meant for the removal of holograms and fine swirls. Medium cutting power is for the removal of scratches and light oxidation. High cutting power is for the removal of deep scratches, orange peeling, runs and heavy oxidation. The same system applies for the polishing pads and microfibre cloths.

DURABILITY

The average life span of the protection.

CARWASH

The products are suitable for conveyor belt style & car washes.

PH-VALUE

The pH value is an indicator whether the product is acid, neutral or alkaline. A strong acid product is primarily used to remove chalk and iron fallout. These products have a pH of 0. Cartec has developed a product which is pH-neutral. This is Iron Wash with a pH of 7. The product removes iron fallout without damaging any substrates on the vehicle. A strong alkaline product to remove grease, oil and dirt. These products have a pH value of approximately 14. Cartec Wheel Cleaner acid-free has a pH of more than 13 and is perfect for dissolving very strong pollution on alloy wheels. The neutral products are located in the middle of the scale, around a pH of 7 that is 100% neutral and equal to water.

PH VALUE BETWEEN 0 AND 3

A strong acidic product has a low pH between 0 and 3. These products are suitable for removing iron fallout and chalk. They can also be used to remove strong contamination. Care must be taken when using acidic products. Delicate parts of a car, such as moldings and chrome parts, can be damaged by incorrect use. Therefore, always use these products according to the instructions and then rinse well with water.

Fun facts, in this pH range you will also find stomach acid, lemon juice, cola and vinegar.

PH VALUE BETWEEN 3 AND 6

A slightly acidic product has a pH between 3 and 6. Royal Clean has a pH of 4. This is a brush shampoo for the carwash which can't be an alkaline. Otherwise the wax or drying aid in the carwash program will be affected.

Fun facts, in this pH range you will find orange juice, yogurt, beer and coffee.

PH VALUE BETWEEN 6 AND 8

The neutral products have a pH between 6 and 8. Here you will find the normal car shampoo's. These products are used for the easy washing process of surfaces.

Fun facts, in this pH range you will find milk, clean water and blood.

PH VALUE BETWEEN 8 AND 11

An alkaline product has a pH between 8 and 11. These are the strong cleansing shampoos.

Fun facts, in this range you will find soap beans and hand soap.

PH VALUE BETWEEN 11 AND 14

A strong alkaline product has a pH between 11 and 14. These products are suitable for removing oil, grease and traffic film. The products work quickly but be careful as these products if used incorrectly, can damage vulnerable parts of the car.

Fun facts, in this range you will find chlorine and caustic soda.
